DETECTIVES AS BULLDOZERS.

Brooklyn Policemen Charged with Closing a Saloon for Politics.

Welskopf Staged Out as a Violator of the Excise Law.

Chief Campbell, of the Brooklyn police, was asked this morning to investigate charges against Detective McCormick and Dennidy, who, it is claimed, are trying to intimidate certain saloon-keepers in the Twenty-second Ward by enforcing the Excise laws.

Adolph Von Wening called on Chief Campbell this morning and made a specific charge in the case of William Welskopf, who keeps a saloon at Fourteenth street and Hamilton avenue.

Von Wening said he was a member of the United German Democracy, an organization formed with branches in every ward, and which has decided to support Charles A. Schieren for Mayor. Last Wednesday night, Von Wening says, the organization, after having endorsed Mr. Schieren and after having elected William Welskopf as president, proceeded to close the saloon.

Detectives McCormick and Dennidy were in the hall at the time, and, it is said, noted the name of the President, and were heard to make inquiries about him.

Yesterday the detectives visited Welskopf's saloon while Von Wening was present, and after taking the number of the license, ordered the saloon closed. Von Wening protested that other saloons were open in the ward. He called on Capt. Murphy, and complained that saloons in the Twenty-second ward were being closed.

The sergeant at the desk said he would attend to the matter, but otherwise the complainant received little or no satisfaction.

Chief Campbell this morning administered to Capt. Murphy a rebuke and ordered him to see that the detectives in the future did not discriminate between saloon-keepers who were violating the Excise laws, or to allow politics to interfere with the impartial discharge of their duties.

DR. JOHN C. PETERS DEAD.

The Distinguished Physician Passes Away at His Long Island Home.

The death from paralysis of Dr. John C. Peters, the eminent bacteriologist, at his summer home at East Williston, L. I., is announced to-day. Dr. Peters was seventy-four years old, and had practiced medicine in New York for more than fifty years.

He was once President of the County Medical Society, and a member of many other medical societies, both in this country and abroad. He was a leading expert in Asiatic cholera, and has published many works on this and other subjects which are regarded as leading authorities.

Eight years ago he retired from active practice, and lived at his summer home since then in his Long Island home. He did not give up his studies, however, and frequently contributed articles to the medical journals.

Dr. Peters was a graduate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, and also of the medical universities of Berlin and Vienna.

LACARDI'S DEADLY KNIFE.

He Used It on Andrea and Tried to Kill a Policeman.

James Lacardi, twenty-six years old, of 49 Front street, Brooklyn, was arrested this morning on a charge of stabbing Canoe Andrea in the back.

Andrea was sitting in the back room of a saloon near his home, when Lacardi and Frank Nicolet entered. Lacardi conducted himself in a very disorderly manner and Andrea refused to tolerate him.

Lacardi, it is alleged, then drew a knife and slashed Andrea in the back and on the right arm. The knife cut into the saloon and at the door Policeman Kennedy tried to arrest him.

Lacardi, who was armed with his knife, narrowly missed striking Kennedy in the neck. The policeman drew his club and after knocking the knife out of Lacardi's hand, struck him a stinging blow on the head. Lacardi fell senseless to the sidewalk.

Marion Blum's Partner Stopped the Proceedings with a Warrent.

Justice Watson, in the Ewen Street Court, Williamsburg, to-day held Marion Blum, of 72 McKibbin street, on a charge of larceny preferred by Joseph Zim, of the same address.

The two men ran to the jewelry store at the above address, and early yesterday morning Blum quietly entered the place, packed up all the jewelry and was going away with the stock in trade, valued at $500, when Officer Klotz arrested him at the request of his partner, who claims that Blum owes him more than his share in the business.

NO COMMERCIAL DIVIDENDS.

Judge Bartlett Rules that They Cannot Be Paid.

Only a Permanent Receiver Could Take Such Action.

Justice Bartlett, of the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, in a decision handed down to-day, characterized the action of William N. Dykman, temporary receiver of the Commercial Bank, of Brooklyn, as premature. Dykman applied for instructions as to the payment of a dividend to the creditors of the collapsed bank.

Judge Bartlett holds that the payment of dividends devolves on a permanent receiver. A permanent receiver has not been appointed yet.

In his application Receiver Dykman asked that he be allowed to pay dividends of $250,000, which is ready for distribution.

Judge Bartlett says that should Mr. Dykman be appointed permanent receiver, he will then give him instructions how the money is to be paid out.

The question as to the appointment of a permanent receiver will be settled on an argument to be held Oct. 28 in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn.

Justice Bartlett granted another motion permitting Receiver Dykman to pay the rates of interest on the bonds held by him on account of the bank. They are in Spencer street.

CLASHED WITH JUDGE MOORE.

Lawyer Johnson Ordered to Get Down by the Irate Magistrate.

His Protested Against the Method of Naturalizing Aliens.

United States District Attorney Jesse Johnson and Judge Moore sitting in the Court of Sessions, Brooklyn, clashed this morning over the methods employed by the Court in naturalizing aliens.

Although Mr. Johnson received a sharp rebuke, he succeeded in stopping the proceedings and carrying his point, much to the disgust of Deputy Clerk York, who had two allies in his reason for being naturalized at a rapid rate.

Mr. Johnson, representing the Republicans, appeared on the scene and claimed the naturalization was improper as, he claims, nobody has the authority to interrogate the applicants except Judge Moore, and that the oath must be administered in the presence of a Judge.

Mr. Johnson protested and Clerk York suggested that they go before Judge Moore and hear his opinion.

When Mr. Johnson, accompanied by Lawyer Jacob Brenner, also acting for the Republicans, appeared before Judge Moore, Clerk York whispered something in Judge Moore's ear.

Judge Moore's eyes flashed as he heard the whispered communication. "I'd like to know if Mr. Johnson or I am running this Court,"

"You honor," rejoined Mr. Johnson, "I sit down, sir, like your seat, I say, I like to address."

"Take your seat; take your seat," said Judge Moore in anger, and he repeated the same words over and over again.

Mr. Johnson, who was in charge, shouted Judge Moore's name as he repeated the same words over and over again.

THE MURDERER RESSENTED IN BROOKLYN THIS MORNING.

He Killed Mrs. Caroline Gessell in a Tenement House.

John Delfino, who shot and killed Mrs. Caroline Gessell about a year ago in a tenement-house in Degraw street, Brooklyn, was resentenced to death by Justice Brown, in the Court of Over and Terminer, Brooklyn, this morning.

The week commencing Dec. 4, 1893, was the time fixed for his execution. Delfino was found guilty of murder in the first degree on his trial. The case was appealed, and the Court of Appeals sustained the verdict of the trial court.

Delfino was very pale when brought into court by State Detective Jackson, of Sing Sing, this morning. District Attorney Rikway moved for the resentence of the murderer.

Counselor Moran appeared for Delfino. He said that everything had been done in Delfino's behalf that could be done as far as the courts were concerned. He said a petition was being prepared to be presented to the Governor for clemency. Judge Brown asked Delfino if he had anything to say.

Delfino said in very broken English: "I did not intend to shoot this woman. It was an accident. It was an accident."

Justice Brown said that all he could do was to see that the law was enforced as he had been directed to do by the Court of Appeals.

LACKAWANNA'S BIG JUMP.

Ten Points Gained Over Saturday's Closing Price.

Humors of Another Coal Combine Makes Trading Lively.

Operators were treated to a degree of activity in the stock market this morning that was entirely unexpected. Prices ran off about 1-2 to 1 per cent in the early trading, owing to the advances from Washington indicating further delay on the repeal measure, but just as the bears thought they had the market to themselves the coal stocks bobbed up suddenly and scored some sharp advances.

It begins to look like another big coal deal, but if anything has really been accomplished the insiders have managed to keep things pretty quiet.

The story which finds most credence is one to the effect that the Jersey Central people have secured control of the Lackawanna, and that the latter are now working in with them on the deal.

President Sloan, of the Lackawanna, declares that his statement in regard to the report, nor would J. Rogers Maxwell, President of the Jersey Central, consent to be interviewed on the subject.

H. C. Fahnestock, of the First National Bank, was very explicit in his denial of the report.

New Jersey Central jumped 5-8 to 112-1/2, Lackawanna 3-4 to 105-1/2; Delaware & Hudson 4 to 128, and Reading 1 to 18-5/8.

American Sugar advanced 1-3-8 to 95-7-8; Chicago Gas 1-1-4 to 61-1-4; Rock Island 1-1-4 to 61-1-4; Distillers 1-2 to 31-1-2; Electric Gas 46 to 15-1/2; Lake Shore 1 to 125; Missouri Pacific 5-8 to 22-5-8; New England 7-8 to 25-7-8; Northern Pacific 1-1-4 to 23-1-4; Western Union 5-8 to 84; Michigan Central 1 to 96-1-2; Manhattan 1-1-4 to 131-1-4; and Erie 1-1-4 to 131-1-4.

Noted stocks experienced a moderate reaction, but the bulk of the trading was in the coal stocks, which were very active and showed an upward tendency.

Lackawanna was the special card, selling up to 171, against 161 at the close on Friday. The stock jumped a point on foot gains during the official deal.

All the other coals were buoyant, and the Lackawanna was very active, showing a gain of 10 points. Speculation developed, however, and was more active than for some time.

Money was easy at 1-1/2 per cent. The Clearing-House Loan Committee retired $100,000 certificates, making the total retired $2,300,000. A member of the Clearing-House Loan Committee said that the committee had decided to retire the outstanding Clearing-House certificates will be cancelled before Nov. 1.

The Sub-Treasury today advanced $500,000, which was liquidated in gold. The accumulation of bills over Sunday had been $4,832,434 1-4, and demand at 4-3/4 to 4-1/2 1-4.
